Important Cases

Kaur v Malhi [2022] EWHC 2219 (Ch)

Acting for the Executive Committee of the largest Gurdwara organisation outside of India (a charity worth over £40million in assets). They were successful in resisting an urgent interim injunction brought by individuals seeking to prevent the charity from holding an election of its executive committee and to force it to allow persons with limited leave to remain to become charity members in circumstances where the charity's constitution contained a mediation clause, and where the applicants had failed to apply to the Charity Commission for permission to bring proceedings. Michael Green J considered, inter alia, the binding nature of a mediation clause in a charitable constitution (which is one of the first reported cases on this issue).

R Anghel v Middlesex University [2022] EAT 176

The appellant appealed against a refusal of a reconsideration application after her claims of sex discrimination, harassment, victimisation and unfair dismissal were dismissed after a full merits hearing. The appellant instituted her appeal 1 day out of time after failing to attach her grounds of claim by mistake and appealed against the decision of the Registrar not to extend time. HHJ Auerbach restated the law on extensions of time for appealing in partial document cases and dismissed the appeal.

Adama and Partnerships in Care Ltd [2014] UKEAT 0047/14/1206

The ET found a dismissal fair following a concession by the claimant, a nurse, that had he used excessive force in restraining a patient, such conduct merited dismissal. The claimant appealed on the ground that the ET had not itself reached a conclusion that the sanction was a fair one. The EAT found that the ET had failed to expressly make such a finding and that there was no room to infer the same from its other conclusions. Question of remedy remitted to a fresh tribunal, but on basis that ET's findings as to other aspects of the dismissal remained intact.

Sanders and Newham Sixth Form College [2014] EWCA Civ 734

Claim by a teacher for disability discrimination by failure to make reasonable adjustments. First appeal to consider the guidance in the EAT decisions in Ashton and Rowan, which the Court of Appeal endorsed.

Okoro and Taylor Woodrow [EWCA] Civ 1590 [2013] ICR 580

In a tripartite arrangement between contract workers, employment agencies and an end user, the contract workers complained that the end user's ban against them working on its sites was an act extending over a period under section 68(7) of the RRA 1976.

The Court found that the end user's conduct did not extend beyond the last instance on which the ban was invoked as there was no on-going relationship between the parties.

McCabe and Cornwall County Council [2002] EWCA Civ 1887 [2003] IRLR 87

Claim for damages against the employer for personal injury caused negligently or in breach of the implied term as to trust and confidence, in circumstances ultimately leading to dismissal – scope of such a claim in the light of Johnson and Unisys Ltd. The case went on further appeal to the House of Lords with Eastwood and Magnox Electric plc [2004] ICR 1064.

Virk and Gan Life Holdings plc [2000] Lloyd's Rep IR 159 CA

Claim on an insurance policy for critical illness payment. A limitation issue arose. The insurance policy provided for a condition precedent to liability, so that it was not a classical indemnity contract.

Rafiq and Secretary of State for the Home Department [1998] Imm AR 193 CA

The Secretary of State could revoke a decision to grant indefinite leave to remain in the UK provided that it had not been communicated to the applicant under Section 4(1) of the Immigration Act 1971.
